

Manufacturing and Production Management and Planning

A group of experts with detailed knowledge of manufacturing and production at factories for general foods

• We propose “original idea” plants specialized for development products.

• We propose optimal manufacturing equipment and production management systems to suit the characteristics of food ingredients.

• We propose manufacturing processes and production management systems suited to customer needs. product plans that can recreate the same taste.

